Dear Licensing,

RE: Comments on Gambling Act 2005- Review of Statement of Principles

As an established gaming provider operating within the Gambling Commission Licensing conditions, we feel let down by the Government that not enough is done to stop the proliferation of on-line gambling sites where LCCP appear to not exist.

This easy to access with little controls form of gambling is not only unregulated but is eroding the existing well controlled facilities in this country.

I believe that in America there is prohibited access to on-line gambling and an offence to provide it, should this not be the case here?

Yours faithfully,

Robert Doubleday (Director)
